Read the following passage and answer the questions based on it.

William Wallace was born in the 1270s in Elderslie, Scotland, into an aristocrat family. Very little is known about his early years. While he was growing up, nobody expected young William Wallace, to become a hero one day. However, as he learnt more about his country, he knew, he wanted to fight to help his people to be free. At that time, King Edward of England wanted to be the king of Scotland, so he used to pay a lot of money to Scotlish Lords so that their people wouldn't fight against him. Whenever they refused to take the money because they wanted to fight the English, King Edward's army killed them. Sadly, William's father was one of the men they killed, and this made William even more determined to fight for his country.

William gathered an army of men to fight the English. He told them, 'Every man dies, but not every man truly lives.' These words gave his army courage. William's army fought many battles, like the battle of Sterling Bridge on 11 September 1297, where they killed 5000 English soldiers. In the same year he was knighted and appointed 'Guardian of Kingdom' in the name of John Balliol, the deposed king of Scotland. However, 1304, the English won the long fight and ruled Scotland. The next year, they caught William. They killed him in August of that year, and put his head on a pole beside London Bridge to remind people how dangerous it was to fight the English.

नीचे दिये गए पाठ्यांश को पढ़ें और इसके बाद दिये गए प्रश्नों के उत्तर दें।

विलियम वैलेस का जन्म 1270 के दशक में एल्डर्सली, स्कॉटलैंड में एक कुलीन परिवार में हुआ था। उनके शुरूआती वर्षों के बारे में बेहद कम जानकारी है।

जब वह बड़े हो रहे थे, तो किसी को अपेक्षा नहीं थी कि युवा विलियम वैलेस एक दिन नायक बनेंगे। तथापि, जैसे उन्होंने अपने देश के बारे में ज्यादा जानकारी हासिल की, वह जानते थे कि वह अपने लोगों को आजाद कराने में मदद के लिए लड़ना चाहते थे। उस समय, इंग्लैंड का राजा एडवर्ड स्कॉटलैंड का राजा बनना चाहता था, इसलिए वह स्कॉटिश लॉईस को बहुत ज्यादा धन देता था ताकि उनके लोग उसके खिलाफ लड़ाई न करें। जब भी वे धन लेने से इनकार करते क्योंकि वे अंग्रेजों से लड़ना चाहते थे, तो राजा एडवर्ड की सेना उन्हें मार देती थी। दुःख की बात है कि विलियम के पिता सेना द्वारा मारे गए लोगों में से एक थे, और इसने विलियम को अपने देश के लिए लड़ने हेतु और भी इढ़निश्चयी बना दिया।

विलियम ने अंग्रेजों से लड़ने के लिए लोगों की सेना तैयार की। उन्होंने उनसे कहा, 'हर व्यक्ति मरता है, लेकिन हर व्यक्ति सच्चे अर्थ में जीता नहीं है।' इन शब्दों ने उनकी सेना को साहस दिया। विलियम की सेना ने कई युद्ध लड़े जैसे 11 सितंबर 1297 को स्टर्लिंग ब्रिज का युद्ध, जहां उन्होंने 5000 अंग्रेजी सैनिकों को मार गिराया। उसी साल उन्हें नाइट की पदवी दी गई और स्कॉटलैंड के पदच्युत राजा जॉन बालिओल के नाम पर 'गणराज्य का संरक्षक' नियुक्त किया गया। तथापि, 1304, में अंग्रेजों ने लंबी लड़ाई जीत ली और स्कॉटलैंड पर अधिकार कर लिया। अगले साल, उन्होंने विलियम को पकड़ लिया। उन्होंने उसी साल अगस्त में उनकी हत्या कर दी, और उनके सिर को लंदन ब्रिज के पास लगे खंबे पर टाँग दिया जिससे लोगों को याद रहे कि अंग्रेजों के साथ लड़ना कितना खतरनाक था।

Some Indian startups are letting their imagination run amok with job titles. The finance head at online wallet company such as MobiWik is called chief number cruncher while the company product manager is called chief idea man. The human resources head is the chief happiness officer and the information technology head is designated Dr Fixit. As per the CEO of Leadership Capital Consulting, these creative yet obscure designations help companies make regular jobs sound interesting and club multiple roles into one position. Startups are all about chaos and people do multiple roles in these companies. So a chief technology officer does not only work on the company technology vision but also writes codes and does testing. Hence a traditional designation may not convey these multiple jobs clubbed into one. Making job titles sound cool also helps companies attract talent. There is a growing trend in startups to let a new recruit select a title of his or her liking that he or she can use. Bipin Preet Singh, founder and CEO of MobiKwik says that they give everyone a formal designation when they join that allows employees picking quirky new age titles. On June 11 Ecommerce Company Flipkart said it has created a new role that is entrepreneur in residence and hired information technology industry experienced person Ravi Garikipati for the job. Typically it is a temporary and informal position given to an entrepreneur who is in the process of starting a new company. Cofounder of MadRat Rajat Dhariwal states his designation as founder & head rat. The company also has some nerd rats and geek rats in its technology teams. Although these designations have landed the Bengaluru based company to trouble at times while making regulatory filings. It is not exactly an exercise for the sake of amusement. The practice breaks the typical monotony and hierarchy as told by Dhariwal. For him this has more to do with creating a culture of equality. There are certain creative job titles that have become popular among several startups even though most people have no clue what they mean. And these titles might mean different things in different companies. For example Raju Vegesna has served as an evangelist for Zoho that is the makers of online suites of office software. But basically, he heads the company mobile app division. On the other hand, Shagufta Anurag is the chief design evangelist at Livspace an Ecommerce startup in the home design and decor space. Her job is to create the looks for the interiors and decor of houses for the company. These titles have a lot to do with sugar coating and forever sounds interesting but creates lots of confusing situation where designation of two personnel clashes.
